

Foodlink S.A, member of FDL Group , leading Company in the sector of 3rd Party Logistics, based in Aspropyrgos, seeks to hire a:

Junior Warehouse Manager (Code JWMGR0419)

Key Accountabilities

- Monitoring and improving customers and store returns
- Overseeing the return process to the suppliers
- Monitoring and improving the flow of orders (picking)
- Analyzing reporting and KPIs
- Improving the procedures and operations of the warehouse in cooperation with the other departments

Qualifications

- University degree, preferably in Business or Engineering
- Post Graduate Qualification in Logistics and/or Transport will be considered an asset
- Two (2) years of proven experience in a similar position
- Strong leadership skills, with the ability to coach and influence others
- Self-motivated and results oriented
- Ability to work under pressure and within tight deadlines with flexibility and ability to set priorities
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills
- Advanced skills in Microsoft Excel

What we offer

Foodlink is the parent company of the FDL group. It was founded in 1997 with the target to become one of the largest companies on the contract logistics market. Having created partnerships with many of the largest Greek and international companies, and supported by a strong team of experienced managers, Foodlink today is one of the leading companies in the market, being the sole company trading on the Athens stock exchange (alternative Market).

At the FDL group we recognize people as the basic factor of our successful development. We believe that through personal development of each employee we shape our company culture that keeps us oriented towards the achievement of our company goals.

The philosophy is based on the notion of an organization that communicates, co-creates and evolves through interaction with its people.

We work within a framework of training and individual evaluations, giving incentives and working as a team in an evolved and open business environment.

We target on the continuous growth having as a basic principle for all to take a step forward each day.

The company offers an attractive remuneration package and excellent career prospects within a fast-growing multinational environment.